Students will be able to apply and expand their language skills in a weekly workshop (2 TU), as well as with our instructors in the language lab.

ACCOMMODATION

Depending on the type of course, we offer various accommodation options in Radolfzell on Lake Constance. We take great care in selecting accommodations for our program participants to ensure that their specific needs met and they feel at home. This is especially important for younger participants, who are often spending their first holiday on their own away from home.

GERMAN LANGUAGE CAMPS FOR KIDS 11–14 YEARS OLD Adventure Farm

Participants stay together with their camp counselors at the Lochmuehle adventure farm, about 17 kilometers from Radolfzell. There are lots of fun activities at Lochmuehle, as well as a lot of different kinds of farm animals. Girls and boys sleep in separate group studios, each of which has a maximum of 15 beds on two floors and a private bathroom (shower, toilets, sink). Bed linen is provided. Breakfast and dinner are served in the adjacent restaurant, and participants have lunch in Radolfzell. Half board is available on weekends. Camp counselors take the students to class in Radolfzell using public transport in the mornings.

GERMAN COURSES FOR TEENS 15–17 YEARS OLD

Participants in the Summer/Winter Holiday Courses stay at the Carl Duisberg residence, or with a carefully selected homestay family. They receive full board on course days and half board on the weekend. We strongly recommend that students under 16 stay with a homestay family, where younger participants receive more individual care.

Homestay Families

Our homestay families enjoy intercultural exchange and look forward to hosting international course participants from all over the world. Teens benefit from total immersion into everyday life in Germany. Homestay families are not always families in the traditional sense and include single people, single parents, and individuals sharing apartments. If multiple guests are staying in the same house, we make sure that they do not speak the same native language.

Usually, guest students have their meals with the homestay family. On weekends they can often prepare small meals themselves, but general cooking facilities are not usually provided. Times and eating habits may be unlike what students are used to at home. In Germany, breakfast and dinner are sometimes cold meals with bread, jam, cereal and fruit as well as cold meats, cheeses, and salad.

Residence

International students from all over the world stay at our residence, which is on the outskirts of Radolfzell in a quiet but also convenient location. The rooms are simple and functional. Students have access to a shared bathroom (shower, toilet, sink) and a kitchen. We provide bed linen and crockery, and there is also a washing machine and dryer.

HIGH SCHOOL PROGRAM IN GERMANY

Our High School Program in Germany combines foreign language learning with an extended stay abroad. Studying abroad is an important part of a well-rounded educational experience and a student’s personal development.

Students benefit from a total immersion experience during a full or half-year stay in Germany. The Carl Duisberg Training Center Radolfzell organizes school placements for students, generally in the 9th or 10th grade. The school year consists of two six-month terms: The first term begins between August and September, depending on the German federal state, and the second in January/February.

SCHOOL SELECTION

Based on the participant’s personal and academic profile, Carl Duisberg Centren selects a suitable school. We provide placement options in public schools and in private schools (with school fees), all of which have their own unique profile and specialties.

“My year at school in Germany was even better than I expected. I love my school, I love speaking German, and of course my homestay family – I’m really happy! Coming to Germany was the best decision I have ever made. Although I am looking forward to returning to Mexico, I really don’t want to leave.”

– Abril, High School Program in Germany

Lessons in Geography, History, Biology, Physics, Mathematics, Social Studies, etc. are taught in German, and we recommend that students have level B2 (CEFR) language skills, but at least B1. Most of our partner schools are in the Lake Constance region, but we are also happy to arrange for school placement in other locations.

SUPPORT DURING YOUR STAY

The experienced team at the Carl Duisberg Training Center takes care of all communication between schools and parents in advance. We are also available to answer any questions during the students’ stay and make sure they receive comprehensive support. While in Germany, students live with a German homestay family. We know all of the carefully selected homestay families personally, and the families have all gone through a rigorous selection process before joining our homestay program.

HIGH SCHOOL PREPARATORY PROGRAM

Additional preparation in the form of language courses and cultural training contributes greatly to a student's success at a German school. Carl Duisberg Centren offers a high-quality preparatory program consisting of an intensive German language course, a specialized math and science language course as well as English language training. The students' learning process is supported by individual supplementary work in our language lab. To attend a school in Germany, we recommend a language level of B2 (CEFR) in German and a level of B1 (CEFR) in English.

GERMAN COURSE

Students in the Preparatory Program attend a German Intensive Course with other participants in their age group as well as adults from all over the world. Our competent language teachers give regular feedback on individual progress. In the language lab, students can expand their language skills and receive individual assistance as needed. Outside of the group courses, our experienced instructors are always available to guide the students through the learning process and to answer any questions. In addition, we offer different workshops every week, and the students have unlimited access to online materials.

SPECIALIZED LANGUAGE COURSE AND ENGLISH TRAINING

The sciences, in particular, are filled with many technical terms. To help prepare them for these subjects, students learn mathematical and scientific terminology and technical language structures in group course once they have reached the level B1. In addition, the students have English training in small groups twice a week in order to improve their existing English skills.

LEISURE PROGRAM

We offer a new activity program each week as an additional opportunity for the students to improve their communication skills. This way the course participants can practice their newly acquired language skills with other young people from around the world in a relaxed environment.

ACCOMMODATION AND SUPERVISION

During the Preparatory Program, students stay with carefully selected homestay families in Radolfzell and the surrounding area. This type of total immersion gives the students the opportunity to experience everyday German family life and get to know the country and its culture before their school term begins. Apart from the homestay family, the Carl Duisberg Training Center team is also available during the students' entire stay, should they have any questions.

“What a fantastic experience – I will never forget the time that I spent in Radolfzell. The month with my homestay family was great. I really enjoyed the daily routine, the courses at the Carl Duisberg Training Center, and getting to know people from all over the world – I was so lucky to experience it all.
